Respect for Ourselves
Respect for Others
Respect for our Learning

BeAttitudes: Be Honest

Thank you SHCS:

As we end Term 1, I want to thank our parents and students for the start to the year that has been made. This term has been exceptionally busy and productive.

In particular I want to thank our SHCS Fair Committee for the work that went into our great fair, including the stress of deciding to postpone the event.

I hope everyone has a great holidays and our students come back at the start of Term 2 re-energised.

"Play is often talked about as if it were a relief from serious learning. But for children, play is serious learning. Play is really the work of childhood."

From the Principal:

The following is part of an article on 'Why Finland has the Best Teachers?' The journalist and his family spent some time in Finland, including attending school there. It does provide some interesting thoughts around our approaches in Australia.

"I enrolled my seven-year-old son in a primary school in Joensuu, Finland, ...I had a position as a lecturer at the University of Eastern Finland. For five months, my wife, my son and I experienced a stunningly stress-free, and good school system. Finland has a history of producing the highest global test scores in the Western world, as well as a trophy case full of other recent No. 1 global rankings, including most literate nation.

In Finland, children don't receive formal academic training until the age of seven. Until then, many are in daycare and learn through play, songs, games and conversation. Most children walk or bike to school, even the youngest. School hours are short and homework is generally light.

School children in Finland have a mandatory 15-minute outdoor free-play break every hour of every day. Fresh air, nature and regular physical activity breaks are considered engines of learning. According to one Finnish maxim, "There is no bad weather. Only inadequate clothing." One evening, I asked my son what he did for gym that day. "They sent us into the woods with a map and compass and we had to find our way out," he said.

Children are assessed every day, through direct observation, check-ins and quizzes by the highest-quality "personalised learning device" ever created - flesh-and-blood teachers. In class, children are allowed to have fun, giggle and daydream from time to time. "Let children be children," "The work of a child is to play," and "Children learn best through play." The emotional climate of the typical classroom is warm, safe, respectful and highly supportive. There are no scripted lessons and no quasi-martial requirements to walk in straight lines or sit up straight.

In Finland teachers are the most trusted and admired professionals next to doctors, they are required to have a master's degree in education with specialisation in research and classroom practice.

"Our mission as adults is to protect our children from politicians," one Finnish childhood education professor told me. "We also have an ethical and moral responsibility to tell business people to stay out of our building." Educators are the ultimate authorities on education, not bureaucrats, and not technology vendors.

One day last November, I heard a commotion outside my university faculty office window, which is close to the teacher training school's outdoor play area. The field was filled with children savouring the first taste of winter amid the pine trees. "Do you hear that?" asked the recess monitor, a special education teacher wearing a yellow safety smock. "That," she said proudly, "is the voice of happiness."

ANZAC DAY MARCH

This is to let parents know further details of the ANZAC Day march this year. Due to school holidays and ANZAC Day falling on the first Monday of Term 2 we will be unable to provide further information before the day beyond the end of this week. At this stage we have not clear information from the RSL about the march this year. We are confident though, that the time and place details will be the same as in previous years. Information for last year's march was:

- Those attending ANZAC Day and marching with our School to meet S.H.S. Staff and the School Captains at Princes Square at 9.45 am on Monday 25th April. The Sacred Heart School banner will be at the Frederick and St John Street entrance. The students will need to wear their full school winter uniform.
- The March will commence at 10.15 am and make its way down Charles Street, left into Paterson Street and continue until it reaches the Cenotaph.
- The service will start at 11.00 am and finish at approximately 11.45 am. Our School Captains will lay a wreath on behalf of our entire school community. The teachers will wait with the students at the Cenotaph until their parents collect them.
- Parents must collect their child from the teachers, as we cannot let students leave without seeing their parent or guardian.

S.H.C.S CARE TEAM

I am hoping we can get parent interest in being part of a S.H.C.S. Care Team. I was made aware of a School in Melbourne that does this impressively. A roster is set up, with the more people we have, reducing the times parents are called on to help. Some examples of things the Care Team supports are:

- Dropping off meals for parents for a week or two when they have a new baby
- Collecting or taking students home, when parents are in hospital for whatever reason
- Gift hampers for parents when they have a new baby.
- Providing a lunch for children each day the weeks that parent has chemotherapy treatment.

In essence it is a roster for parents to help other parents when needed. Sadly there are ongoing needs for families due to illness or the passing of loved ones, at the same time, moments of joy or excitement that still place a strain on the day to day organisation or coordination of our lives. I will include this in the next few newsletters to hopefully galvanize some interest from parents.

- Please if interested in either being part of the roster or coordinating this contact Karen Cettolin through karen.cettolin@catholic.tas.edu.au

S.H.C.S SWIMMING POOL

We are confident that after a prolonged break, our school swimming pool will be operational again at the start of Term 2. We are confident we will have a tenant to use and maintain the pool. We will offer our students the chance to have a swim (supervised) on a Friday linked to the Good Decision Board across the week. The school will detail more information once we are ready to go.

WINTER UNIFORM TERM 2:

Unfortunately there may be a potential delay in arrival of some of the ordered winter uniforms. If this is the case students can wear either summer uniform or sports uniform until the items arrive.

WORKING WITH VULNERABLE PEOPLE REGISTRATION

Government legislation now requires all people working or volunteering with vulnerable people to be registered. It is an expectation placed on our schools that any person who is on an excursion, helping in the classroom, helping out with students getting changed after swimming, attending camps etc must have this registration.

If parents do not have registration or registration is pending you may not be able to volunteer and attend the excursion or school event. This is something that we do not want to have to do but as legislation and system policy we need to adhere to.

How to apply for a WWVP and Number

1. Complete the online application form www.justice.tas.gov.au/working_with_children
2. Print the "Application Receipt" which is generated when the application has been completed in full
3. Take the "Application Receipt" to a Service Tasmania shop, pay the fee ($17.60) and have your 100 point check to confirm identity

Once your registration has been approved and you receive your WWVP card, please bring it to the school office so your name, registration number and expiry date can be recorded and verified.

MOUSE TRAP RACER

Yesterday both the grade six classes went into competition mode because it was Mouse Trap Racer testing day. Some people's racer went really far and others didn't go quite so far. Everyone had a go and learned about motion. The challenge wasn't how fast it went but how far it went. There were so many different designs. Some were long, some were short, some had small wheels and some had big wheels. Some of the winners were Aidan Krushka, Laura Hayes, Connor Leeftang and Mia Baldock. By the end of the challenge we all had fun. So a big thank you to Mr Claessens and Mr Davie for organising this challenge.

NAPLAN NATIONAL ASSESSMENT PROGRAM
Literacy and Numeracy

2016 information for parents

What is NAPLAN?

The National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) is an annual national assessment for all students in Years 3, 5, 7 and 9. All students in these year levels are expected to participate in tests in reading, writing, language conventions (spelling, grammar and punctuation) and numeracy. All government and non-government education authorities have contributed to the development of NAPLAN materials.

Why do students do NAPLAN tests?

NAPLAN is the measure through which governments, education authorities, schools, teachers and parents can determine whether or not young Australians are meeting important educational outcomes in literacy and numeracy. The tests provide parents and schools with an understanding of how individual students are performing at the time of the tests. They also provide schools, states and territories with information about how education programs are working and what areas need to be prioritised for improvement.

NAPLAN tests are one aspect of a school's assessment and reporting process; they do not replace the extensive ongoing assessments made by teachers about each student's performance.

What will be tested and how?

NAPLAN tests the sorts of skills that are essential for every child to progress through school and life, such as reading, writing, spelling, grammar and numeracy. From 2016, NAPLAN content will be aligned with the Australian Curriculum. For more information on this please see the NAP website: www.nap.edu.au. Questions are multiple-choice or require a short written response. The writing task requires students to write a text in response to a prompt.

To give you an idea of what the tests look like, sample questions and a sample writing task are available on the NAP website: www.nap.edu.au

Who will run the tests?

NAPLAN tests are conducted at schools and administered by classroom teachers, school deputies or principals. Each state and territory is responsible for marking the tests in accordance with strict guidelines and processes.

How can I help my child prepare for the tests?

NAPLAN assesses literacy and numeracy skills that students have already been learning through the school curriculum. Teachers will ensure students are familiar with the test formats and will provide appropriate support and guidance. If you have any questions about your child's preparation for NAPLAN, you should make a time to speak with their teacher.

The best way you can help your child prepare for NAPLAN is to reassure your child that NAPLAN tests are just one part of their school program, and to urge them to simply do the best they can on the day. The use of services by coaching providers is not recommended.

What additional support can schools provide for students with special needs?

All students are encouraged to participate in NAPLAN tests. Students with disability may qualify for adjustments that reflect the support normally provided in the classroom. Students who have a temporary injury may also be reasonably accommodated.

A formal exemption may be granted for a student with significant intellectual disability and/or significant coexisting conditions, or for a student who has recently arrived in Australia and has a non-English speaking background.

Your school principal and your state testing authority can give you more information on special provisions or the process required to gain a formal exemption.

Sacred Heart School Newsletter

How is NAPLAN performance measured?

NAPLAN is not a pass-or-fail type test. Individual student performance is shown on a national achievement scale for each test. Each test scale has 10 bands and all year levels are reported on the same scale. Six bands are reported for each year level for each test. One of these bands represents the national minimum standard for students at each year level. A result at the national minimum standard indicates that the student demonstrated the basic literacy and numeracy skills needed to participate fully in that year level. The performance of individual students can be compared to the average performance of all students in Australia.

What happens if my child is absent from school on test days?

Where possible, schools will organise for individual students who are absent at the time of testing to complete missed tests at another time during the testing week. Individual students are not permitted to sit tests after Friday 13 May 2016.

Will I receive a report on my child's performance?

A NAPLAN report will be issued by your school later in the year. The same report format is used for every student in Australia. The school will notify you when the reports are being sent to you. If you do not receive a report, you should contact the school. Individual student results are strictly confidential.

How are NAPLAN test results used?

- Schools use results to identify strengths and weaknesses in teaching programs and to set goals in literacy and numeracy.
- School systems use results to review programs and support offered to schools.
- Students and parents may use individual results to discuss progress with teachers.
- Teachers use results to help them better identify students who require greater challenges or additional support.
- The community can see average school NAPLAN results on the My School website: www.myschool.edu.au

Where can I get more information?

For more information about NAPLAN:

- visit the NAP website www.nap.edu.au
- contact your child's school
- contact your state or territory's education authority (details available on the NAP website).
